MY EPINET

Who do I ask about the study?

Your mummy, daddy or the person who looks after you will have been given lots of information about the study. If they are not sure, the doctor or nurse who gave you this piece of paper will be able to tell you more.

Why is the study being done?

We hope that the study will help us to treat children with epilepsy better.

Who is doing this study?

Doctors at your hospital are doing the study. Other doctors and children with epilepsy are also taking part around the world

Study title:	The EpiNet- First Trials of New Onset Epilepsy
Locality:	Auckland District Health Board	Ethics ref.:	14/NTB/56
Lead investigator:	Dr Peter Bergin	Contact phone:	09 379 7440 Ext 25663

Your mummy or daddy or the person who looks after you, has talked to the doctors and nurses about a research study.

The study will help us to learn which medicines are the best ones to treat children with epilepsy.

We want to ask you if you would like to take part in this study.

What is a research study?
What is the study about?

A research study is what doctors do when they want to learn about something or find out something new.

People who have epilepsy need to take medicine. We want to find out which medicine is best to treat children with epilepsy

What will happen to me?

Your doctor will give you a medicine that you will take to treat your epilepsy. We will also ask you some questions about how you are feeling.

What if I feel upset?

If you feel upset when you take your medicine you should tell your mummy or daddy or the person who looks after you.

Do I have to do the study?
What if I change my mind?

It's up to you.

Just say if you don't want to carry on in the study. Nobody will mind!
